

Centennial Celebration 1909-2009

Exploring a century of education

This fall school officials formed a committee to decide how to celebrate a century of education. As part of this celebration, students are invited to participate through a creative writing project. Teachers, please visit MISD website for information about the district's history. Students can respond in any genre of writing. The writing theme is "Mansfield ISD, Then and Now". Schools are encouraged to display student work on campuses during the month of January. In addition, we would request one submission per campus by Dec. 16, 2009 to display at the administration building. These should be submitted to Monica Gonzales or Staci Buck.