

100

Things I will do differently next year are ...

1. Find more resources for next year
2. plan ahead more
3. Mix it up (lesson plans) more
4. Use more/different aspects of technology
5. Better time management
6. Add fun activities
7. Plan within the department more
8. Leadership program; mentor more kids
9. Take care of things before they get lost in the sea of e-mails
10. Not doing too many ideas at one time
11. Almost everything because I will be in second year
12. Plan small group instruction a little better
13. Minimize the amount of times I had to change my schedule
14. Keep a more detailed beginning teacher's notebook and reflection log
15. Find a new way to organize center rotation
16. Try to get parents more involved in the classroom
17. Start stricter
18. Stick to LPs
19. Have intervention lessons gathered in one bucket
20. New reward system
21. Have all my center games organized by 6 weeks
22. Filing system;
23. Keep adding more tech and lab
24. Improve communication with my parents and aides
25. Smile more
26. Have higher expectations of my students
27. Will use absence folder
28. Find more ways to use my entire classroom
29. Have more supplies, like pencils available for students who arrive to class unprepared
30. Spend more time on review
31. Parent newsletters
32. I want to move from My Big Campus to iTunes
33. Get a feel for campus discipline environment and establish my enforce more in the classroom; use varied methods for formative assessments to provide immediate student feedback
34. Grade papers same day or next—no later
35. use higher level questions and conversation more frequently and incorporate into all lessons

36. Concentrate on being more efficient
37. Document RTI and Intervention as I go
38. More data based lessons and assessments
39. More small groups
40. Schedule
41. Reading groups
42. Add more novel studies
43. Get more resources
44. Focus more on writing skills
45. Change my behavior plan
46. Spiral TEKS better
47. Change some labs
48. Start intervention earlier for basic skills and fluency
49. Make sure my procedures and routines get started right this year
50. Add multiplication flashcards/free art
51. Organize desk better
52. Push for lesson planning with a grade level I work with the most
53. Attend more workshops
54. Collaborate more with my mentor and team
55. Have more fun
56. Invest more in my students
57. Intervention/think tanks
58. Organization of missing assignments
59. Stick with what I know and avoid being pulled into ineffective strategies
60. Keep a track of meetings, etc. and look at it every morning
61. Make more time for exercise
62. More detailed syllabus
63. Spend more time with my family on weekends
64. Be okay with the fact that some lessons just don't work
65. Daily log intervention time for individual students
66. Have my routines & procedures down (model everything)
67. Not take angry parents so personal, as long as I know I did all the right things
68. Keep a more uniform log of parent contacts throughout the year
69. Book bags (organization)
70. Maybe use tables instead of desks
71. Regroup planning language arts to match MISD
72. Enforce a math rotation and stick to it
73. Prepare more over the summer
74. Implement gaming in the classroom
75. Level of confidence
76. Do more with interactive notebook
77. Discipline system – no more clips

78. Use whole brain teaching from the beginning
79. Update due date board from the beginning of the year, with extra copies
80. Use Google drive; set up my white boards differently
81. I will keep all of my student's writings
82. Make sure I have an electronic copy of everything I do in class
83. Use QR Code/Scoot Activities from Day 1
84. Not to seek to drive the class so hard
85. Not be as passive and accommodating with parents—stand my ground
86. Change the way I introduce writing (handwriting without tears)
87. E-mail parents with positive—praise reports
88. Working on website for class
89. Improve on my questioning
90. Delegate and say no
91. Start with high structure where or what they are dealing with
92. More incentives for AR reading; incorporate for lessons with novels
93. Use more anchor charts & display them
94. Progress monitor better/more often
95. Teach math earlier in the day (am)
96. Have a designated place for everything –supplies
97. Always have a backup plan
98. Create a new process for absent work
99. I will incorporate Daily 5
100. Utilize my parents who are willing to volunteer to help